The Barns Hotel is situated in a beautiful riverside location, within three and a half acres of landscaped gardens, yet it is just 10 miles from the M1 and 8 miles from A1. The tranquil setting offers Bedford accommodation with views of the great River Great Ouse and the local country park and wonderful grounds in which to stroll and relax. Come and join us for a beautiful and relaxing stay, why not hire our electric self-drive river boat. (Summer season only)

Points of interest for the 2020 reunion.

The hangars at Cardington were also used for some of the Pirates of the Caribbean films; Johnny Depp was often seen in “The Bell” public house relaxing after a hard days filming.

Close by is “Shuttleworth House”, home to an agricultural college now but also houses the Shuttleworth collection of old aircraft. During the summer there are flying displays.

From the “Barns Hotel” on the outskirts of Bedford, there is a nice walk along the banks of the river Great Ouse to “Danish Camp”. “Danish Camp” is a very nice café restaurant, worth a visit. Further afield is the RAF Museum at Duxford, I say RAF but they also have an Army museum there as well. For the educated, Cambridge is not very far, a pleasant stroll around the colleges or maybe punting on the river, self-drive or hire a student to do the hard work. Float down river to Godmanchester and take a drink or two at a very nice pub.

If there are golf enthusiasts going there are some very nice courses near to Cardington/Bedford. In Bedford itself the prison is where John Bunyan wrote “Pilgrims Progress”. No need to be so creative, the shopping centre is nearby. If anybody wants to go, Central Milton Keynes is within easy reach although very busy at weekends.

I hope this gives some points of interest to potential attendees, those that were at Henlow as GWM’s can visit the old place and see the changes.
